

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE SEXUAL ASSAULT PREVENTION AND RESPONSE OFFICE

Department of Defense Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO)

Sexual assault is a crime that harms our warfighters, erodes our readiness, and hinders our ability to field the lethal, resilient, and agile Joint Force that the National Defense Strategy requires. To counter this problem, the DoD established SAPRO in 2005 under DoD Directive 6495.01. DoD SAPRO represents the Secretary of Defense as the central authority charged with preventing sexual assault in the military and facilitating recovery for survivors.

MISSION

SAPRO's mission is to provide unparalleled warfighter support, advocacy, and recovery assistance – anytime, anywhere.

VISION

A military free from sexual assault.

Our approach is prevention-focused with an uncompromising commitment to victim assistance.

SAPRO executes policy, planning, and oversight across the DoD community.

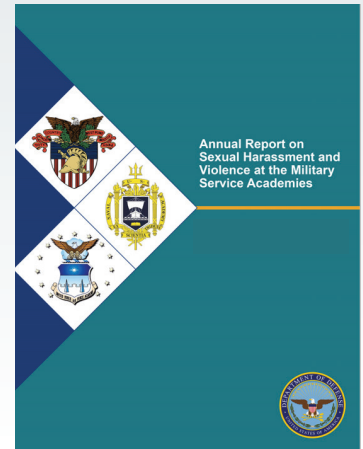

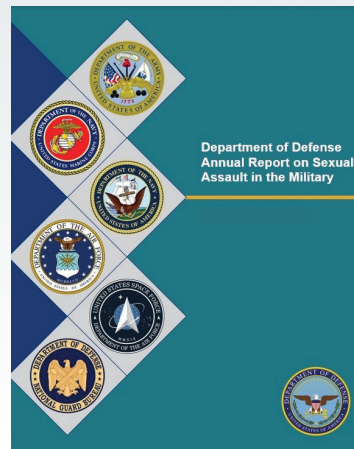

Policy to advance prevention efforts, provide victim assistance, and guide SAPR personnel.

Planning to combat sexual assault with action in five focus areas: prevention, victim assistance, investigation, accountability, and assessment.

Oversight to promote excellence in SAPR program execution and outcomes everywhere.

SAPRO employs a research-focused, data-driven approach to assess the nature of the problem and measure progress.

Major reports include the DoD Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military and the Annual Report on Sexual Harassment and Violence at the Military Service Academies.
